Telling the story of your Diocese

It's been good to see the magazine getting bigger and full of much more news, activities etc. It is a great tool for communicating to the wider diocese and more especially to those who maybe cannot get to church as regularly as they once did. During the period of lockdown, it has been great to see the magazine continuing to be produced and allowing the news of the diocese to be received into people's homes – especially when they couldn't be in church for prolonged periods of time. Having the hard copy delivered – something tangible to read, I am sure, has been great for people. Not everyone is tech savvy! As a reader of the Magazine for longer than I care to mention, it is great to see that it is still so popular. Zelda

Keeping up to date!

When one reads the notes of all the parishes it keeps you up to date on the happenings in the parishes – fundraising events, births, marriages, deaths etc. There is also a crossword to keep the brain alert. The first things I like to read are the Mothers' Union notes and the Bishop's letter. I have been reading the Magazine from a very young age. I have never known our house without the Magazine. Elizabeth
